HISTORY REPEATS.... THIS TIME AT BELMORE!

Who said that History never repeats?

In an astonishing display once again, this time at Belmore Oval, the West Sydney Berries have beaten the more-fancied Sydney Olympic 3-1 in the opening game of the 2009 Telechoice Premier League.

Exactly the same scoreline as 2008.....

And for exactly the same reason!

Last year Sydney Olympic had both Peter Zorbas and Anthony Doumanis on the bench- and lost 3-1.

This year, both Zorbas and Doumanis were on the bench- and Olympic lost again 3-1!

Greek Derbies are where the Greek background players in particular come to the fore. Sydney Olympic once again played into the Berries hands- and suffered the same result.

Think I'm joking?

Look who scored two of the Berries' goals- Aheleas Kotsopoulos and Dimitri Zakilas! In fact, the Berries best players were Kotsopoulos, Zakilas, Lagoudakis and Tsironis. Need I say more?

Ironically, when both Doumanis and Zorbas came on, Sydney Olympic were a far better composed side. But by then the damage had been done.

The result was perhaps the most surprising result of the weekend.

According to the Football NSW website: "The Blues, who have recruited well with the experience of Bobby Dragas in defence and Tolgay Ozbey in attack, along with new coach Aytek Aheleas Kotsopoulos and Liam Austin hit two world class finishes inside the first-half to send the Berries in at the break with a two-goal lead. Ozbey cut the deficit on the hour, though Dimitri Zakilas restored the Berries two-goal lead immediately following the re-start. The Blues squandered a late penalty to kill-off any chance of a comeback".

Genc, were left shell-shocked as their 'less fancied' opponent scored three goals past Michael Turnbull in the Sydney Olympic goal.

Let's hope that a valuable lesson is learnt by Sydney Olympic on how to tackle these Greek Derby games in the future.

SYDNEY OLYMPIC.....

Having said all that, there is no way in the world that Sydney Olympic WILL NOT be playing semi finals football come the 'business-end- of the year. They are are class act and Tolgay Ozbey and Adam Biddle in particular will casue a lot of headaches.

I said it last year after the Berries beat Olympic, and I'm saying it again in 2009.....

Sydney Olympic is one of the teams-to-beat in 2009. Just wait and see.

I wouldn't want to be in Apia Leichhardt's shoes this weekend- as I sense that Sydney Olympic is going to bounce back BIG TIME!

That did just that last year in Round 2- walloping last year's champions Wollongong United 4-0! And that scoreline was achieved at half time! The Tigers shouldbe fearing the Blues.

THE BERRIES?

What a great start to 2009 for the West Sydney Berries.....

They beat Sydney Olympic in the U/13's, U/14's, U/15's, U/16's, drew in the U/18's, lost the U/20's, and caused another boilover in 1st Grade.

I have been involved with the club for a very long time, and I cannot recall the last time, if ever, the Berries have wiped the floor with Sydney Olympic in such a comprehensive manner.

With a touch of luck, and the avoidance of injuries to its key playing personnel, the Berries too could be headed for a "Top 5" spot in 2009.

Time will tell.....

"SPARTAN WARRIOR" WINS NSW TITLE!

It is with great pleasure that I advise you all today that Bobby the "Spartan Warrior" Antonakos has defeated Adrian Campbell and is the proud owner of NSW Welterweight Boxing Title.

Having had the satisfaction of watching Antonakos 'live' last Friday night, and how focused and well-prepared he was, it was fairly obvious from the outset that an upset was on the cards.

Congratulations Bobby Antonakos!

BETEZY-BET-OF-THE-WEEK ON FIRE!

Hi Punters,

I hope you are well cashed up as last week's each-way special (MELITO) saluted at the juicy odds of $6-50 in Sydney. The wife was happy as I took her out for dinner and the kids were spoilt again! So all I need to do is to find some more winners this weekend. With great Group 1 races in Melbourne and the Chipping Norton S-takes at Randwick.

One rule of punting is never take odds-on with 2 year old horses and this was proven right when both odds-on 2 year olds last week buck jumped and lost all chance of winning.

This week's suggested bets are:

Sydney Kindergarden Stakes- Wanted (win)

Melbourne Cadbury Guineas- Fravishi (win)

Melbourne Surround Stakes- Yesterday (each-way)

Melbourne Newmarket Hcp- Swick, Secret Flyer, Absolut Glam, Largo Lad- back level stakes and box quinella and exacta as I don't like favourites.

Good luck and mat the golden run continue.....
