OLYMPIC DREAM ALIVE, BUT FOR HOW LONG?

Sydney Olympic's (27pts) victory over Blacktown City has ensured the club remains in finals contention- although fifth placed Manly United (27pts) does have two catchup games still to play. Manly has to come away from their clash with Wollongong (5pts) this weekend with three points.

Even Sutherland (28pts), after their draw over the weekend are not quite assured of a spot just yet either. The Sharks need to overcome the Sydney Tigers at home tomorrow in a crucial game for them.

Sydney Olympic MUST keep winning though if they are to have any hope of sneaking into the "Top 5". This weekend's clash against Bankstown City (34pts) will not be easy- and a loss could very well put the Blues' hopes of a semi finals place out of reach once again.

Sydney United (38pts) will not find it easy against Bonnyrigg (24pts) at home, but they should sneak past the Eagles nonetheless.

So too should Marconi (31pts) continue on their merry winning way against The Berries (20pts) on Saturday night.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP 2009

Sydney United continues to have a stranglehold on this year's Club Championship. Only Bankstown City and perhaps Marconi are the only possible contenders for the title.

Current Standings:

- 1. Sydney United (262)
- 2. Bankstown City (247)
- 3. Marconi (233)
- 4. Sutherland (229)
- 5. Manly United (211)
- 6. Sydney Olympic (211)
- 7. Blacktown City (201)
- 8. Penrith Nepean (166)
- 9. Bonnyrigg (154)
- 10. West Sydney (154)
- 11. Sydney Tigers (138)
- 12. Wollongong (94)

RONALDO TO ALSO WEAR SHIRT #9

Cristiano Ronaldo, in front of 75,000 Real Madrid fans, was handed the #9 shirt as he was paraded to the Santiago Bernabeu crowd this week.

Ironically, it is the exact number which was worn by another Ronaldo once upon a time.

Now, yet another Ronaldo name will appear on the back of the #9 playing shirt. In the meantime, Cristiano Ronaldo has dismissed suggestions he will single-handedly lead Real Madrid to European glory next season.

The world's most expensive player (£80m) did reveal his ambition however- to once again win the UEFA Champions League trophy he claimed with Manchester United last year.

Real have been crowned champions of Europe a record nine times during their illustrious history but have badly underachieved in more recent times, falling at the last-16 stage in each of the last five years.

Real are desperate for success having spent almost £200m already on just four new signings- Ronaldo, Kaka, Karim Benzema and Raul Albiol- and more big-name arrivals are believed to be in the pipeline as well.

Of all of those players, the signature of reigning FIFA World Player of the Year Ronaldo is the "piece de resistance" for Perez and his Real revolution, and expectations will be high that the Portuguese ace can help deliver the trophy they so covet.

BETEZY-BET-OF-THE-WEEK

Hi Punters,
I have been out off action doing father duty to my new little daughter and have spend a bit off time on the form this week.

Suggested bets.

1. Sports allup Penrith (+5.5pts) against Souths, Canberra (+5.5pts) against Newcastle, Queensland to beat the Blues in the State of Origin- allup should be $5.40.

2. My horse tip is Scenic Blast ($2-80) to win the July Cup in England, with Takeover Target(12-1) not far away filling the placings.

3. Also Sydney Race 8 no 1 Lustre Lady

Good punting,
The scotsman
