MAV'S CORNER

Mav's Corner reviews the top 8 teams who are in fighting for a spot in the finals. The 8 teams consisting of Sydney United, Bankstown, Manly, Marconi, Sutherland, Sydney Olympic, Bonnyrigg and with some mathematical chance the West Sydney Berries.

Sydney United started the season off strongly as Ante Milicic and Co. producing a string of wins going undefeated until Round 11. The mixture of the young and old has worked out for Western Sydney club: Olympic (A), Penrith (H) and Manly (A)

Compared to Sydney United, Bankstown was on the receiving end. Last Season's Tiger Turf winners have won 8 out of the last 9 games. Tseka who had to deal with long list of injuries in the first round had to depend on his up and coming stars to produce the goods as they replaced key players such as Norha, Makrys and Mileski. However these players have now come back and the team is in excellent form: Penrith (A), Manly (H) and Blacktown (A)

Manly has once again showed why they are the breeding ground for quality youngsters. The team from the Northern Beaches has been consistent all season and play a typical English style. On about 4 or 5 occasions Manly has won in the 90th minute or in injury time which could be beneficial for the finals. The addition of Spencer Prior and Scott Thomas has proven to be the X-Factor: Blacktown (H), Bankstown (A) and United (H)

Marconi brought in 3 internationals for the '09 campaign and are now sitting in fourth position. Coach Lee Sterrey had to deal with a lot of departures and arrivals in his first season as the head but has managed to equip his team to take on the best: Tigers (A), Bonnyrigg (H) and Olympic (A)

Robbie Stanton took the reins at Sutherland during the summer break. The Sharks who lost quality players last season have somehow managed to keep the core team. Jablonski, Stavroulakis, Boardman and Souris are the driving force at the Shire club which has just earned a spot in the Tiger Turf Final. The Sharks will need to win their next three games to secure a spot in the top 5: Bonnyrigg (A), Olympic (H) and Penrith (A)

Sitting 2 points out of the 5 is Sydney Olympic, the Greek Club was tipped to win the Telechoice Premier League after their excellent Pre-Season campaign, but a series of bad results saw Aytek Genc dismissed and replaced by none other than NSL winning coach Nick Theodorakopoulos. With Nick at the helm he has managed to turn a disappointing season around and record 3 straight wins after beating a depleted Newcastle Jets team. Olympic who have scored 34 goals but have conceded 36 proves to the public that their weak defence has let them down this season: United (H), Sutherland (A) and Marconi (H)

Bonnyrigg has enjoyed their first season back in the Telechoice Premier League; Sitting 3rd last by round 11 Brian "Bomber" Brown has brought some stability into the side which was lacking with the previous coach. The acquisitions from Serbia, Asia and the UK have helped the team rise to 7th position and just out of the top 5: Sutherland (H), Marconi (A) and Berries (A)

With a slight mathematical chance and to my surprise is the West Sydney Berries. The Greek club lost key players before the start of the season and did not have enough bargaining power to entice replacements for the voids left by Angelo Petratos, Sash Tirovski and Scott Thomas. Coaching inexperience has killed off any possible chance the Berries had of making the finals this year. A string of bad results at the start of the campaign put a damp on their mid season resurgence. With three games at home, hopefully the Berries can finish off the season on a high for their fans: Wollongong (H), Tigers (H) and Bonnyrigg (H).
