35 years HELLSOC

Hellsoc (Hellenic Society of the University of New South Wales) celebrated its 35th Anniversary on Friday at the Grand Roxy, Brighton Le Sands. The UNSW Hellenic Society is a body of UNSW students of Hellenic or non Hellenic descent who form a member base, and in turn elect a Committee in each successive year. The UNSW Hellenic Society or Hellsoc, was formed in August 1974 as a direct result of the Cyprus crisis and the apathy and indifference displayed by the general community and the Greek Youth in particular. The Society's salient objective is supporting Modern Greek studies at the University of New South Wales. Its long and proud history has inspired and energised many young people to fulfil their dreams and achieve their goals, both collectively and individually.
