WRITER'S quote:

"I'm hoping more Greek Australians will appreciate that a fellow Greek can give them an new theatrical experience ; an innovative and potent mix of drama with a healthy dose of caustic humour. So far, the audience feedback has been positive. Many people came a second time to take it all in again. It's been great listening to people raving about the play during the intermission and all the way to their cars when the show ends. It's a great feeling for a writer. I'm very pleased that Greek Australians have come to support one of their own, and at the same time feel it's been worth their time! Thank you!"
