

NSW Premier League outfit Sydney Olympic have commenced its recruitment drive for 2011

Billy Darwich is back with Sydney Olympic for the 2011 season. Arriving to Sydney Olympic from Dullwich Hill towards the end of last season, Billy proved he deserves a spot in the squad and will play for the Club in the coming season.

Chris Triantis has also resigned with the Club. Chris has been playing for the Club a number of years and he is hoping this year he will be able to offer more as he will have a strong competitor, his brother that will be training and playing alongside with him.

Emmanuel Giannaros and Steven Tibbets are two more players that played for the Club last season and have achieved to keep their spot in the 2011 season. The young and talented players are excited with the new coaching staff and are looking forward to great season at Belmore with Sydney Olympic.

Another player that played for our historic Club when he was young and has returned now to Sydney Olympic at the age of 22 is William Angel.

William came into the office and signed his contract this week and was extremely happy to be wearing the Sydney Olympic jersey next season.

He noted the big differences he can see at the Club the past couple of seasons and was thrilled to see the new office facilities that the Club has set up.

The Board would like to wish all the above players all the best for the 2011 season and we hope they meet their personal expectations but also the expectations of the Directors and supporters of the Club.

CDSFA is proud to announce it has developed a formal relationship with Everton FC

Everton will now officially be known as CDSFA's sister club in the world's most elite competition, the English Premier League.

The relationship between CDSFA and Everton developed back in July when Everton was in Sydney to play Sydney FC.

CDSFA president Frank Parisi made contact with Everton's media and communication manager, Mark Rowan, during their visit to Sydney to put the idea to them.

"Everton was a stand out for us, given that Tim Cahill is an old boy and one of our current Patrons of the association, and one of Everton's key players. To me it was a logical fit", Parisi said.

"Mark Rowan was more than pleased to enter into a friendly relationship with the CDSFA, saying that Tim Cahill is an idol for many people here in Sydney, as he is at Everton.

"We sent to Everton one of Canterbury's representative jerseys and banners as an initial token, and Everton have dually reciprocated, sending us a signed Tim Cahill jersey and an official Everton Banner as well"

Parisi also advised that this is the first part of an ongoing relationship.

"We have been invited to Everton in the near future to further discuss other initiatives between the 2 organisations. This includes having CDSFA members to obtain Everton membership's as well as to look into the possibility to provide the opportunity for some CDSFA youngsters to train at the Everton Youth Academy."

"This is an exciting period for the CDSFA as we continue to grow in leaps and bounds, and by having this relationship with an International Club like Everton, it will give the thousands of CDSFA players something to be proud of knowing they are part of 2 terrific organisations in CDSFA and Everton FC," exclaimed Parisi.

"O KOSMOS newspaper fulfils a most important function for Football. For many years it has continued to keep the passionate ethnic base of our game well informed. George Stavroulakis deserves special mention, his love for the game is apparent in his work and his constant support and encouragement for the game. He really cares about the NSW Premier League in particular.

He is so well informed, the players and officials have a high respect for him and his contribution to the game.

The partnership with O KOSMOS forged largely through George Stavroulakis is so vital at this level of football. Relationships like this are necessary for the league to survive and prosper. Other Football NSW administered competitions also benefit from O KOSMOS. It all adds up to much appreciated but never taken for granted exposure for Football NSW.

To George and the staff at O KOSMOS, we are grateful and privileged for what you do for our game, our competitions and our organization. Long may our partnership continue".

The coverage that is produced on a regular basis is of high quality and depicts the professionalism of the staff at O KOSMOS, especially George Stavroulakis. Professionally written articles not only on the NSW Premier League, but also on other Football NSW administered competitions assist Football NSW in getting good exposure, but also shows the in-depth knowledge that George and the other staff at O KOSMOS have regarding football in this state. May the excellent relationship between both organisations continue for years to come".

"O KOSMOS has supported Football NSW greatly in the last couple of years in regards to promoting all things football especially the NSW Premier League.

The paper has a dedicated NSW Premier League section which displays reports, statistics and photos which displays O KOSMOS' passion for the world game as well as a number of other countless stories.

No doubt this is great publicity for Football NSW who are able to reach other community groups - namely in this case the Greek community in spreading the word of football here in NSW.

Football NSW's Media Department would like to congratulate O KOSMOS on a job well done again in promoting all competitions during 2010.
