

A Feast of Music, Dance and Delicacies from Epirus

Saturday 26 June

1821

The Panipirotic Union of NSW and the Epirotic Federation of Oceania Inc. (Australia) invite you to visit Epirus, that land tucked away in the mountains of Pindos, which was nonetheless at the forefront of the Greek Revolution of 1821. Its people nurtured the idea of the Revolution in its making and continued to play a leading role. From Tsakalov and Skoufas, founders of the revolutionary "Friendly Society", to the soothing sounds of the clarinet and the region's traditional delicacies, Epirus has made a special contribution to the Greek heritage. Join us to discover its unique music and superb cuisine.

The Children of Pan: Arcadians in Australia Book Launch

Wednesday 30 June

Anastasios Tamis' book narrates the experience of immigration and the socio-economic, cultural and political organization of over 60,000 Arcadians who settled in Australia from 1953 to 1980. It records the stony years of exodus from their ancestral lands, the painful initial awareness of a culturally unknown industrial environment, the sacrifices, the bold commitments and the achievements of those who worked so hard and persevered in sustaining the values of their homeland. Their children and grandchildren will cherish this publication as a memorial to their forebears' legacy and a lasting gift of love in their memory (κτήμα ες αεί).
